cept by special process. This is done to prevent the daring and ingenious unemployed of the metropolis from robbing the bank. The bullion de-partment of this and other banks are nightly submerged several feet in water by the action of the machinery. In some banks the bullion department is connected with the manager's sleeping room, and an entrance cannot be effected without shooting a bolt in the dormitory, which in turn sets in motion an alarm. If a visitor during the day should happen to knock off one from a pile of half sovereigns the whole pile would disappear, a pool of water taking its place.

Mrs. R. H. Wilson, of Hopkinsville, Ky., writes: "Seven years ago a sore developed on my nose from a finger nail scratch. I tried a few simple remedies, but the sore would not yield. I grew worse every year for seven years. Many thought I had a cancer. Over a year ago I commenced taking S. S. S., and two dozen bottles entirely cured me.

"When I began with Swift's Specific, I was in very poor health, and could hardly drag about. After I had finished the course of S. S. S., I was strong and buoyant and had a good appetite. I regard it as a most valuable medicine for ladies in weak, delicate health. It is a household medicine with me."

The man walked into is mine poor. The man walked into San Jaan a few years ago--tramped his way. like any other dead-broke fortune-hunter. He had been on the losing side of the Brooks and Baxter war for the control of the Arkansas State Government at Little Rock, and when he got here his finances had reached their lowest ebb. But he had the vote-getting gift, and it wasn't long before he was sitting on the bench and dispensing justice at Lead-ille, Alamosa and one or two other places which comprised his circuit.

Bowen's political methods are his ewn. He doesn't go about with the boys whooping up things, but he picks his friends with rare discrimination and they stand has been picturesque, for that he dealt a plain, common-sense kind of justice. Perhaps the most notable incident of his judicial career was the contest of the Santa Fe and Rio Grande railroads for the right forms through Grand Canyon, just morning loses the power of speech and hearing, remaining a deaf mute until six o'clock of the following morning. From six to nine o'clock he hears and of way through Grand Canyon, just above Canyon City. The case was tried at Alamosa, and was attended with a good deal of feeling. Bowen decided against the Santa Fe, and the next morning there appeared in a Denver paper a dispatch announcing the decision, and with it the insinuation that cision, and with it the institutation that the court had been corrupted. When the paper reached Alamosa Bowen replied to it from the bench, and made the oratorical effort of his life. Fragments of that speech have been proserved, and when Bowen and his heart that conceived it was as bleak, barren and verdureless of truth as the lava beds of hell."

Only intimate friends know that Bowen is a great lover of poetry, and that his favorite is Byron. From that an hor he can quote by the hour.

His interests here consist of a gold mine, in which very beautiful rich ore is found in pockets. It is doubtful if he makes much out of it, for he hasn't the capital to work it on a large scale. Hisidea has always been to sell the mine, and last winter he thought be had found a purchaser. There was no trouble about the price, $150,000, or the terms. "Now," said the Senator to an intimate friend, "I can invest that money where it will yield me a sure, steady income, on which I can live comfortably." Then he spoke of his aspirations for another term in the Senate, and expressed the belief that if he got back he would be able to accomplish something not to be

But while the Senator was indulging in the dream of being able to re-alize the aim of his life, the capitalist who was putting in the bulk of his for une to buy this mine was suddenly afflicted with failing sight. Physicians told him there was no hope of recovery. The bargain had progressed so far that the question of release lay with the Senator. The capitalist went to him and told him the circumstances. Bowen listened, and said quietly: "Would you rather you had not made this trade?" The buyer replied that since he found himself in such a helpless condition he did not believe i would be wise to enter upon the enerprisa. "Very well," replied Bown, "here are your securities," and he banded back the papers without acother word.

Senator Bowen still has the mine. He works it enough to strike occasion al pockets, and when he gets any thing particularly good he saws the stuff into slabs and enriches the specimen cabinets of admiring friends. -San Juan (Col.) Cor. St. Louis Globe-Democrat ..

Remarkable Increase of Useless Govern-ment Publications.

"Books! Books! Books every where, out nothing to read!" exclaimed a Government official as he called the attention of a visitor to a big pile of books just received from the Govern-ment Printing Office.

"Their appearance is attractive," suggested the visitor, smiling at the poetical paraphrase of his friend. "Yes, they look very well on the outside," he assented, "but, like the apples we used to read about, and like these, to our dismay, we discover, after we have bitten into a rosy-
